Reverence for Courts.

There are judges and judges. Some judges are elected by, and consequently feel a responsibility to the people. Others hold life positions through appointment as a reward for personal or partisan political service in no way connected with their fitness, in temperament, mental equipment or integrity, for the duties of the office, while others are appointed for fitness alone.

The degree of reverence awarded a magistrate or his office by the general public depends largely upon the merit of the individual himself. The public is generally quite accurate in estimating the character of men in public life, and quick to detect those flaws which the armor of office can never conceal.

If there is a growing disrespect for the judiciary, the cause may be found in decisions rendered, in assumption of arrogant superiority by some of its members, and in the intolerant partisanship too often displayed.

Among professional classes protest is not frequent, but occasional outbursts occur, and one faulty, too common in many judges seeking publicity—in other words "playing to the gallery"—is thus evoked by a banker, S. B. Whipple, who is quoted editorially by the Chicago Branch:

"It has come to be a customary, if not popular, practice of courts to visit abuse upon persons called to bar for one offense or another. From the vantage point of the entrenched bench, they very often—too often—send forth upon the helpless persons before them a flood of anathemas that fairly stultify. They say things then that they would not dare to utter elsewhere than in a carefully guarded court. Where do judges find authority for this sort of action? By what right do they assume to administer any punishment—beyond the state's—when they are not authorized to do so? Are they definitely fixed by law? They have no such authority, no such right. They shamefully abuse the dignity and power of the highest state officers when they stoop to personal and vindictive attacks on those unfortunate haled before them. More than that they have no right to the height of cowardice when, securely protected and hedged as the judicial bench always is, they launch assaults on those who because of the grip of the red-eyed law, are helpless and dumb. There is nothing anywhere, in any law, that authorizes a judge of any state to do one jot or tittle beyond that law's provisions. He may have his personal approval or disapproval of the prisoner's conduct and character, but he has no right whatever to intrude those personal views into the adjudication of a case he is trying. He knows contempt, when he does so."—Dearborn Independent.

When Judges Violate The Law.

The following article is from a recent issue of the Peas-Dee Advocate:

Special Judge, Sins at Chesterfield court imposed fines of $25 to $100 upon liquor makers and sellers. Other judges have been doing the same thing, except some of them require a higher license than Judge Sins exacted at Chesterfield. When a judge lets a liquor maker, transporter or seller off with any fine at all, the judge is violating the law himself. The Advocate has more than once called attention to the law which requires imprisonment for those who violate the law with fines for liquor dealers.

Section 828 of the Criminal Code of 1922 says:

"Any person who violates any of the provisions of any law of this state prohibiting, relating to or regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be imprisoned at hard labor for not less than six months nor more than two years, and for any subsequent offense, upon conviction shall be imprisoned for a term of not less than a year nor more than five years. Provided, That any circuit judge may, in his discretion, suspend all or each of such imprisonment, except thirty days for the first offense and sixty days for subsequent offenses upon such terms and conditions as he may see fit to impose, but in each and every case any person convicted of the violation of any of said laws shall be required to serve not less than thirty days in the county jail for the first offense and sixty days for any subsequent offense of the sentence imposed upon him. Provided, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to cases pending on or to offenses committed prior to February 19, 1916."

CHESTER DOWNS YORK.

Chester High school football team played its second game of the season at the Chester Fair grounds last Friday afternoon, defeating York High by a score of 48 to 0.

At no time during the game was Chester's goal in danger, the York boys being unable to penetrate the Chester line. However, York has the material for a good team and with proper training and experience there is no reason why it should not "be among the top-notchers."

The most sensational play of the afternoon was when A. Kennedy, of Chester, picked up a punt and ran for eighty yards and a touchdown. On a line back Kennedy also went through for forty yards and six points. Another of Chester's touchdowns was made when Dick Woods caught a pass and proceeded for ten yards adding six points.

The Chester boys played considerably better ball than they did in their first game and the saga showed a wonderful improvement over last Friday's game.

Next Friday Chester goes to Fort Mill for a game. It is stated that Fort Mill has a good team this year, and it will be recalled that they recently defeated York by a score of 21 to 0—which is evidence that Chester will have to play hard next Friday than was done the past Friday.

METHODISTS RAISE $5,000.

(Written for The News.)

The Annual Rally Day at Bethel Methodist church Sunday proved a record-breaking occasion. The attendance at Sunday School was one of the largest on record for this school, being 474 present. A cash offering of $2,824.23 was received for the new Sunday School Building. This is probably the largest cash offering ever received in any Sunday School in this city or county for any purpose in the regular program. It was added two special selections: a quartet selection by Messrs. S. S. McCullough, J. V. Brookshire, Olin Grant and L. Brannon. A duet was also rendered by Doris McCullough and Margaret McCullough, the children of the Assistant Superintendent, Mr. S. S. McCullough.

On account of the enthusiasm over the large offering received for the Sunday School Building a joint meeting of the Board of Stewards, Trustees and Sunday School Council was held in the Church in the afternoon at 3:30. At this meeting it was made known that when all of the subscriptions to the church budget for the fiscal year are paid that the church would probably be in position to begin the erection of the large, commodious Sunday School Building within twelve months. Just when the building will start is to be determined at a later meeting of these three boards, during the first week of November.

The detailed report by classes of the splendid record made on yesterday is as follows:

Mrs. James Land, Jr., 8 pupils, $24.00; Mr. G. A. Horvath, 21 pupils, $78.00; Miss Grace Lynn, 10 pupils, 12.75; Mrs. Clyde Carter, 13 pupils, 18.61; Mrs. W. T. Williams, 6 pupils, 12.75; Mrs. R. Murphy, 11 pupils, 10.55; Miss Margaret Cloud, 7 pupils, 9.80; Mrs. T. J. Walker, Jr., 9 pupils, 11.63; Miss Frances Massie, 12 pupils, 18.75; Mrs. J. R. Copeland, 12 pupils, 18.00; Miss Cleo Wall, 10 pupils, 21.05; Mr. B. Branch, 10 pupils, 25.00; Mrs. L. V. Branch, 8 pupils, 18.75; Mrs. S. F. Strickland, 12 pupils, 13.25; Mrs. B. S. McLeod, 12 pupils, 13.60; Miss Mary Wall, 4 pupils, 30.00; Mr. W. A. McBoyle, 12 p. 1b., 40.00; Miss Inez Cloud, 15 pupils, 38.50; A. Latimer, 8 pupils, 18.00; J. L. Glenn, Jr., 14 pupils, 70.00; Mrs. J. C. Boyd, 80 pupils, 929.50; Mr. H. B. Branch, 90 pupils, 500.00; Mrs. Henry Stokes, 47 pupils, 545.75; E. E. Wynn, 16 pupils, 118.00; Officers, (4) 210.00; Teachers (129) 537.00. Total $2,824.23.

The Sunday School now has a record for the year Building $7,775.00. The goal for the day was $2,500.

Secretary Hughes says the Monroe Doctrine is "Uncle Sam's private, exclusive, personal affair—not, for instance, a 'regional' understanding, as the League Covenant described it, or something to be enforced jointly by the nations of Pan-America. The Government of the United States reserves to itself the definition, interpretation and application of the Monroe Doctrine."

Why judges persist in violating this law, we do not understand. The legislature ought to pass a law to put liquor dealers on the chain-pug without the privilege of paying fines or license. The legislature has done its duty. The law is as clear, comprehensive or something to be enforced jointly by the nations of Pan-America. The Government of the United States reserves to itself the definition, interpretation and application of the Monroe Doctrine. The people usually do their duty in the jury box in trying to break up the liquor business. They have done their duty through the representatives in the legislature. What more can they do? The responsibility is now on the courts. Will the people continue to allow them to disregard the law and defy the legislative mandates of the people of the state?

DUTCH WEATHER PROPHECY PROPHESIES COLD WINTER.

Says Southeastern States Will Experience Coldest Since Winter of 1917-18—Also Predicts Five Snowy South of the Blue Ridge.

W. P. Housal, of Columbia, the Dutch Weather Prophet, predicts cold weather and snow for this winter. He is quoted in the Columbia State as follows:

"The Southeastern states will experience during the coming winter the lowest temperatures since the remarkably cold period of December 1917, and 1918," said W. P. Housal, yesterday. "We are entering the 35 year period of meteorological conditions when the weather pendulum begins to swing back the other way in a very decided manner. It happens now that the pendulum is swinging back to conditions similar to those of the '80s, when this section experienced its first day-time blizzard which the generation at that time had seen and the 'old inhabitants' remembered, that had occurred in previous winters. In December 1884, the Dutch Prophet saw a field of ice about black frozen, and the effects of the blizzard one afternoon—perfectly green at 2 o'clock and as black as coal at half two hours. The word blizzard was not in use in this section before that date."

"Along with the cold winter this year will come the first snow south and east of the Blue Ridge. One of these shows at least has the promise of being of heavy precipitation and wide extent, and the latter condition it is expected, will take in Columbia. I give a large clientele of young folk that abundant promise."

"Another condition of the winter will be no lack of rain. Precipitation will be at least normal, with the promise of exceeding that limit with the inclusion of spring weather in the category."

"Indications at this date show frost of severe form to make it the killing variety along between November and 10."

"The Black Forest of Germany which has long been famous for its profusion of games has been virtually stripped of its forest by the fury of denizens by hungry Germans."

Much interest was displayed in Chester yesterday afternoon as the World Series of baseball was being played in New York by the Yankees and Giants. Every radio outfit in the city was doubtless busy and the fans came in just as they were being made. Many fans were around the radio outfits up-town and in the eighth inning great was the excitement. The Yankees had three men on bases with only one out and Babe Ruth came to the bat. Every fan cooed his ears aching for the man at the sending station to tell of Babe. The first one was a called strike; the second one was a four strike; and the third was called a strike and the Mighty Babe went back to the bench with three men left on bases. However, his success at the bat brought home the bases and the game was won by the Yankees by a score of 6 to 4, and with the game they took the World Series.

A heavy wind lifted an eleven-year-old boy from the roof where he was sitting a large kite in New York City. The lad kept his hold of the string and floated safely fifty feet to the street, the kite acting as a parachute.

Thorn Lake, in Eastern Oregon, has for years been thought the site of a prehistoric city. In its depths are walls, rising in geometric precision, and which blot the lake bed, and investigation has just been set afoot to learn whether their origin is from a natural cause or the work of man in years gone by.

Amos A. Kuhn, mayor of Fairport, Ohio, resigned recently after a bitter fight of nineteen months with the town fathers, claiming the right to a finish which has just been set afoot. At a mass meeting whether their origin is from a natural cause or the work of man in years gone by, was declared to be the best in years, and all her predecessors were men.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM

Efficiency and Lower Rates

FREIGHT rate reductions made by the Southern Railway System in 1922—first on farm products and later on all traffic—have effected a saving for our shippers of $15,000,000 a year. Average receipts per ton-mile are now 12 per cent lower than two years ago.

Before the World War rise in prices, our ton-mile revenue was a little under a cent. Cotton then averaged about 10 cents a pound; locomotive fuel cost a little more than a dollar a ton; the average pay of our employees $80 a year.

While our average freight charges today are 40 per cent above the pre-war level, cotton sells at more than double the old prices, and our average freight charge on cotton shipments is only a quarter of a cent a pound. Coal costs nearly three times what it formerly did, and the average pay of our employees for the past three years has been $1,580, an increase of 79 per cent.

By greater efficiency of operation, the result of large expenditures for betterments, and the loyal co-operation of our employees, we have been able to absorb a part of the excess of the increase in operating costs over the smaller increase in rates. We are continually working for greater operating economies.

Southern Railway System deposits in Southern banks an average of $150,500 each banking hour.
